Re: You Can Get the Answers You Need at the Conference Consulting Session

Dear Mayor:

How can we get the most for our citizens from our incumbent cable franchise? Can we get any help from the State for our Historic Preservation efforts? How about our Main Street merchants? Renewable energy? Our family farmers? What is the "New Jersey Youth Corps," and how can it help us and our kids?

Wouldn't it be nice to be able to get direct and accurate answers to the questions you need to ask to make your municipality the best that it can be for all your fellow citizens?

Well, we think so, too. That's why we are setting aside two hours, right at the beginning of our Conference Week, for our all new Consulting Session. Over 100 consulting tables will be in place, with top experts waiting for you and your questions, on Tuesday, November 17, in Hall A of the Atlantic City Convention Center.

The procedure couldn't be any easier. You go to Hall A any time between 3:00 pm. and 5:00 p.m. You find the table at which is seated the expert you need. You sit down, introduce yourself and ask your questions. Once you are satisfied that you have the information you need, you thank the expert and move on to another table with another expert in another field.

You will find a listing of Consulting Session experts in your Conference Program. We will soon be posting a preliminary version of that list on our Conference webpage at <http://www.njslom.org/94thconf/index.html>. But we'll be updating that list, as more experts agree to share their time, talents and specialized knowledge with us in Atlantic City.

Our all new Consulting Session just might be the most valuable 'shared service' you'll be involved in this year. We hope to see you there.

Very truly yours,

William G. Dressel, Jr.
Executive Director
