Subject: JCP&L Aerial Inspection of Transmission Lines Oct-Nov 2009

Jersey Central Power & Light (JCP&L) will be performing aerial inspections of its overhead transmission lines in northern and central New Jersey beginning Tuesday, October 27 through the month of November, weekends included, weather permitting. No patrols will be performed on November 26 and 27.

The patrols will be conducted by Haverfield Aviation Inc.

During the inspections, customers may notice a helicopter hovering in areas near substations and transmission lines. There will be two helicopters performing these inspections at different locations. The helicopters' call letters are N765KV and N353AH. Please contact your JCP&L area manager with any questions.

JCP&L serves 1.1 million customers in 13 New Jersey counties. JCP&L's central New Jersey service area is comprised of all or portions of the counties of Burlington, Mercer, Middlesex, Monmouth and Ocean. The northern New Jersey service area includes all or portions of the counties of Essex, Hunterdon, Morris, Passaic, Somerset, Sussex, Union and Warren.
