RE: Channel Changes

Effective on or about July 30, 2009, NBA TV (channels 731 and 749) and the NFL Network (channels 180, 733 and HD 218) will be available to customers subscribing to either the Sports Entertainment Package or Digital Classic. Additionally, on or about August 11, 2009, NHL Network will move from channel 734 to channel 739 and will be available to customers subscribing to either the Sports Entertainment Package or Digital Classic. NHL Network is also available on HD channel 229 to those customers. Digital equipment is required to view digital channels; HD equipment is required to view HD channels. Comcast is notifying customers of the change via an advertisement in the Express Times on July 10, 2009.
