Thomas L. Friedman to Speak at 2008 Congress of Cities

THOMAS L. FRIEDMAN
NOVEMBER 14
Orlando, Fla.

Dear Colleague:

The National League of Cities is pleased to announce that world-renowned author and journalist, Thomas L. Friedman, will address attendees of the 2008 Congress of Cities during the afternoon general session on Friday, November 14.

The three-time Pulitzer Prize winning journalist covers the economy, finance and foreign affairs for The New York Times. During his address, he will share insights on the U.S. and global economies and touch on implications for local leaders.

"The issues that Friedman writes about are the 21st century issues that cities and towns must grapple with...the economy, climate change, energy," said NLC Executive Director, Donald J. Borut. "Friedman's participation at the Congress of Cities gives NLC and our delegates the chance to explore how cities can lead the U.S. through the inevitable changes that will come as what is happening globally plays out locally."

His most recent book, "Hot, Flat, and Crowded: Why We Need a Green Revolution - and How It can Renew America," will be on sale during the conference at the NLC Bookstore.
